Dear High School Educator,

I invite you to transform your curriculum with our human anatomy platform, autopsy.online (www.autopsy.online).

If your ideal for anatomy education is a device a few students can stand around, a day trip to a local morgue or small animal dissection, this will radically alter the level of engagement you can sustain in the classroom.

Autopsy.Online is

- real because we show actual human dissection
- broadly accessible on any desktop device
- didactic, interactive, searchable, a discovery tool, and more.

Students can engage the site for basics or move into higher level analysis by solving and exploring our case database at the physician level.

What is autopsy.online? It's years of ongoing autopsy dissection and casework video-recorded by gift of our families, and presented in an accessible, interactive, tech-forward format.

Please feel free to check out our accompanying Support Document for more details.

Let us know if you have any questions. If you wish to speak, teacher-to-teacher, with some of the educators who've worked with us, we're happy to connect you.

Thank you.
